DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 and 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pate et al., U.S. 2,790,623

Regarding claims 1, 3-7, Pate et al. discloses a drill pipe (2,3), hammer (1), a back head (14), a drill cutting bit (attachable at 3) and a back bit (24) having upwardly extending teeth (32) mounted to the back head.

As to claims 2 and 8, Pate et al. discloses the back bit (24) is permanently attached to the back head (14; between 16 and 17).

As to claim 5, Pate et al. discloses the back head (24).

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Binkley, U.S. 3,313,364

Regarding claims 1 and 4, Binkley discloses a drill pipe (12), hammer (col. 2, lines 22-26), a back head (15), a drill cutting bit (10) and a back bit (14) with upwardly extending teeth (18) mounted to the upper end of the hammer.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12 December 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues the prior art of Binkley nor Pate et al. discloses a hammer.

The jar reamer disclosed by Pate et al. includes impacting shoulders (15,26) creating a hammer or jarring action. Binkley discloses similar action in the passage cited (col. 2, lines 22-26).

Applicant's further arguments amount to a general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention, since the specification, claims nor figures contain functional descriptions enabling specificity.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
